

Will You be in Tune With the Spirit of Easter?

There's nothing, you know, that gives such a stimulating and keenly pleasant sense of satisfaction as the sure knowledge that your appearance is modish and attractive and in harmony with the joyous spirit of the Easter season.

That new spring STYLE-CRAFT suit or coat which you've promised yourself will be just the thing for Easter; and although the time for preparation is growing short, we are all ready to help you in your selection.

Our STYLE-CRAFT garments are well known to all the fastidious dressers of this community. This spring you'll find in STYLE-CRAFT just about the most piquant and fascinating fashions you've ever had the pleasure of inspecting.

We can fit all figures and suit all tastes in designs, fabrics and colors. Let us help you to Dress Up for Easter.

Dress up for EASTER in a Style-Craft Suit or Coat

With your new Easter STYLE-CRAFT suit or coat, you'll surely need some of the accessories that play their part in every completely effective costume.

It's here that we can be of exceptional service to you. The choice and selection of gloves, shoes, corsets, undergarments and other articles of apparel, calls for much care and discriminating judgment if the effect of the whole ensemble is to be harmonious.

This is the store of service. We are here to supply just what you want, and if we may be allowed to suggest what you ought to have, we can help you to the most wonderfully pleasurable feeling of pride and satisfaction this Easter.

Come in to-day and let us show you our assortments.

THE HOMER FITTS COMPANY

Got Villa and hang him: then ask Carranza's permission.

The present "diplomatic situation" (God save the mark!) demands the "fait accompli" of a very dead Pancho Villa; subsequent to, or pending the accomplishment of that highly Christian design, it may be desirable that our state department secure Carranza's consent to the general principle of sending punitive expeditions against marauders whom he cannot control. This does not involve intervention of an irretrievable sort, and Mr. Wilson may even be able to return to his former iniquitously befuddled course.

In pursuing the perpetrators of the Columbus outrage across the border, our United States troops have at last acted as they should have been permitted to act long ago. Even Wilson's policy of non-intervention in internal affairs could have been—and still can be—coupled with a swift punishment for lawless external manifestations of internal chaos. In other words—every time a Mexican kills an American our cavalry should round up the murderous band and string up half-a-dozen or so. You can't convince a savage by reading international law to him—you must hit him with a club.

The best sedative at this moment for Mexicans of all factions is for our forces to conduct a punitive expedition of real severity, whose object shall be the killing of Villa and his cut-throat officers, and the final dispersal of his gang. This may require time, and a considerable force of United States troops—for Villa is a resourceful fighter of long training—but it's the only kind of diplomacy that Mexico as a whole will understand; and furthermore—it is the only kind of diplomacy the people of the United States are to-day in a mood to tolerate.

Therefore, we earnestly hope that Villa won't be captured and brought back to stand trial for murder; that would drag out interminably an unpleasant situation and provide chances for all sorts of complications. We devoutly trust that our friend Pancho will be neatly and cleanly dispatched in battle at the earliest possible moment to the glory of God and the satisfaction of all Mexico and America.—Boston Journal.

Lo! The Poor Heathen.

"You may spell 'heathen,' Phyllis," said the teacher to the youngest member of the class in spelling.

"He-a-t-h-e-n," slowly spelled little Phyllis.

"Correct," replied the teacher. "And now, Phyllis, can you tell me what a heathen is?"

"A heathen is anyone not born in Massachusetts," was the prompt reply.—Woman's Home Companion.

Lippy Goldberg of Hartford, Conn., who pitched for the University of Vermont last season, is to be given a trial by the Hartford club.

Jack Soutar of Philadelphia defeated William Ganley of Boston Saturday in the final squash racket match for the professional championship of the United States and $1,000 a side.

Manager Fohl of the Cleveland Americans says Speaker will add forty per cent to the club's strength.

"How did you get that stitch in your side?"

"Oh, I got hemmed in a crowd."—Lampoon.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Barre young men in a panel photograph of the 87th Canadian overseas battalion at St. John's P. Q., which is exhibited in the north window in Merle Bros.' store, may be distinguished by crosses marked on the front of their khaki uniforms. The picture was sent to Barre by S. Thompson, whose father turned it over to Merle Bros. to exhibit. The photograph shows three companies of the Canadian grenadiers drawn up in front of the barracks at St. John's. In the rear is the regimental band and the group presents the appearance of a fine looking lot of infantrymen. Among the former Barre boys who may be seen in the picture are William Hurry, S. Thompson, George Stewart, G. Davidson, Robert Smith and David Allen. The 87th is leaving within a few weeks for service in France.

R. P. Lynde of White River Junction, a native of Williamstown, and a 1911 graduate of Norwich university, is employed as a bookkeeper in the Barre Savings bank, succeeding A. L. Knight, who has gone to Oklahoma City. Mr. Lynde was employed for three years as an assistant in the National Bank of White River Junction and thereafter he served for a year in the Federal Reserve bank in Boston. Last year he visited the Pacific coast exhibitions and tarried in Utah for a visit on his brother's sheep ranch. Mr. Lynde, a son of the late J. K. Lynde of Williamstown, numbers many acquaintances in this section and assumes his new duties with excellent recommendations from his former employers.

Solid session convened at police headquarters for a number of youth who are alleged to have been connected with act of petty vandalism committed in the Granite street plant of Johnson & Gustafson Monday night. Nearly a dozen boys, ranging in ages from 12 to 17 years are implicated in the matter. It is said, and the session this morning partook of the nature of an inquest. It is alleged by the proprietor of the business that youngsters, raiding the storehouse in the early evening, defaced several monuments, directing particular attention to dispelling the letter work on memorials that were nearing completion. The loss aggregates a number of dollars and in at least one instance, it is unlikely that stone defaced by the vandals can be restored. It is stated by the police that entrance to the shed was gained by breaking open a door.

A collection of pottery loaned by the General Federation of Clubs will be shown, also specimens of art work in oils, water colors, pencil and modeling, executed by local people will be exhibited. The exhibit will be open to the public and no admission will be charged. Everyone will be cordially welcomed. Will anyone having pictures they are willing to loan for the occasion kindly confer with Miss Tilden, 8 North street?

"Cider George" Benjamin, on the outs with the beverage that has made him famous in Barre, Woodbury, Bethel and Granville, went the whole way with a more fiery fluid yesterday and was gathered in by Chief Sinclair at the Montpelier & Wells River station around 3 o'clock. When arraigned before Magistrate H. W. Scott this morning, Benjamin pleaded guilty to a subsequent offense and disclosed on two river jacks, whose names he was unable to furnish. Magistrate Scott sent him to the county jail for 30 days and imposed a fine of $10 and costs, which the respondent will probably pay with an additional jail sentence. William J. Johnson, who was arrested by Officer John W. Dineen last night, pleaded guilty to a first offense and went to jail for 10 days in lieu of paying the minimum fine and costs of $6.80.

Local buyers predominated with a generous sprinkling of Randolph, Fairbanks and Montpelier purchasers at the Davis & Martin sale of the Milham farm stock on the Fred Gale farm, Cobble hill, yesterday. The stock was transferred to Cobble hill from the Milham farm in East Montpelier, where a disastrous fire destroyed the buildings several days ago. Through the auctioneer's ring 194 head of stock cattle passed, prices ranging from $25 to $121 for stock cows. Here are some of the figures: 1 registered calf, $54; six-month-old bull, $29; four-year-old bull, $105; 17 head of cows averaged $97 each; 11 head of three-year-olds averaged $70; eight head of yearlings averaged $53. Grade calves brought from $12 to $19. D. A. Perry of this city acted as auctioneer. An interesting exposition of the Queensbury rules, which developed among the spectators, was one of the side features of the sale.
